PAINTING BY THE LATE JACK SNYDER IS ON EXHIBITION

Mrs. Sue Snyder reports the interesting news that two paintings, done by her late husband, Jack Snyder, will be exhibited at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland. The one picture is a water color of the Perry Monument, which gains individuality from the many other reproductions of the monument, by being painted from an unusual angle.

The other is an oil painting of the beautiful rocky west shoreline, which Mr. Snyder secured while a rough sea was breaking huge waves over the rocks.

Mr. Snyder's profession was that of an actor, and for years, he and his wife toured the United States and Europe in vaudeville. Their act was known on the stage as "Jack Ross and Sue Lewis." But Mr. Snyder's talents were not limited to acting and he found much enjoyment, as well as success in his avocation of painting. Some of his scenes and character studies were done while touring France and England, but many, of course, are of his beloved Put in Bay, where he spent his summers for years and which he finally chose as his home for retirement.

At one time he was offered the position as an instructor of art in a Detroit school of art, but his health, which would not permit such confining work, forced him to decline the offer.

His amiable personality won for him hosts of friends in Put in Bay, and elsewhere, and those who have been fortunate enough to see his many pictures, are thrilled to learn that two of his works will be honored at the Great Lakes Exposition.

Mr. Snyder studied at the South Kensington School of Art in London, England.

Island Entertained City Business Men

Upon request, arrangements were made for a good-will visit of Sandusky business men. Arriving upon the Erie Isle, June 24 at 4:15 p.m., they were met by a committee, consisting of William Schnoor, F. C. Osborn and Walter Smith.

After visiting the Perry Memorial Monument and an Island tour on Miss Hippo, a Dutch treat supper was served at Jim's Place. About thirty-five Sandusky and twelve Put in Bay men were present.

After several speeches and introductions all around, the group visited the leading dispensaries and returned on the Erie Isle at 10:30 p.m. An invitation to visit the Sandusky delegation in September was accepted.

Special Writer Is Visitor on Island

Colonel Arthur A. Hagman, reporter for the Conover-Meat Publishing Co., New York City, visited Put in Bay and Middle Bass Islands on Wednesday. He is getting data for a story, the purpose of which, will be to educate the people of the United States on how and what alcoholic beverages to drink.

In this locality he was collecting material on grape culture and the refinement and possibilities of wine as a beverage.

Islanders Will See Display on Fourth

Put in Bay children and grown-ups will have the opportunity to enjoy a fine display of fireworks around 8:30 p.m., on the Fourth of July. The fireworks will be displayed in the Bay between Gibraltar Island and Put in Bay.

The cost of the fireworks will be defrayed by general subscription.

Oscar Heide expects to supervise the display and Galus Halleck and William Dodge are anxious to be his assistants.

Exclusive Club At Middle Bass Opened

The exclusive Middle Bass Club had its formal opening Saturday, June 27. The famous old building, built soon after the Civil War, and by a company of "Buckeye" representatives, high in social standing and correspondingly in the business and political world, is now owned by Toledoans and has sheltered four Presidents in its time. They are: Cleveland, Taft, Theodore Roosevelt and Harrison.

The Club is privately owned, and is strictly for the use of members, or anyone vouched for by a member.

For the past six years it has been managed by Mr. Don Martin of Toledo, Ohio, a very affable young man, who is assisted by his lovely young wife.

The Club House, which is a charming old building, with high ceilings, and attractive cool summer furnishings, presents an ideal atmosphere for quiet entertainment and rest.

The sports presented for the indulgence of its members and their guests are tennis, yachting, swimming and fishing.

Some of the members who spend the entire summer at the Club are: Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Macabee of Muncie, Ind., Mrs. Jeannette W. Baker and children of Toledo, and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Strater of Louisville, Ky.

Many guests arrive also for shorter visits. Reservations for this week-end have been arranged for over seventy.

Erie Isle To Make Trips For Affair

Captain Augustus Stoll, reported that the Steamer Erie Isle had a very satisfactory week end. Many people visited Put in Bay in automobiles and returned to Catawba on the special trip at seven o'clock Sunday evening.

Captain Stoll also wishes to announce that beginning Monday, July 6th and every Monday from that date through the season, the Erie Isle will feature special excursions for the purpose of visiting the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland. It will be arranged so that you can take your car and leave on any of the morning trips to Catawba. Then the Erie Isle will be in Sandusky to bring you back at 11:30 p. m.

The tickets will be sold at a special rate, which will include the round trip on the boat and the entrance to the Exposition Grounds.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dress are the proud parents of a six and a half pound son, born Sunday, June 28. Mr. Dress will be remembered as Miss Katherine Phillips. Mr. Dress is the popular wheelman of the Erie Isle.

ANCIENT PAPER IS OWNED BY ISLAND MAN; MADE IN 1817

Wilbur Dodge is the fortunate owner of a copy of the Detroit Gazette, which is slightly older than any of which the Put in Bay Gazette can boast. The date of the Detroit Gazette is July 24, 1817. Part of the paper is written in English and part in French, and there are many interesting and peculiar articles, which portray quite vividly the march of time.

Mr. Dodge's young daughter, Phyllis, recently submitted one of the articles in a radio contest for interesting news articles, which was offered over station WJR, sponsored by the Flavorade program and was very proud to win a prize. The following article was the winner:

"B. Stead—Taylor"

Takes the opportunity of the first commencement of a newspaper in Detroit, to express his gratitude to the citizens thereof for their liberal patronage, and assures them that no exertion shall be omitted on his part, to continue to deserve it.

Officers of the Army and gentlemen whose remote situation may make it convenient to them to give orders personally, by sending their order and dimensions, (as under) may depend upon being furnished without delay with any article, warranted of the best materials, fashion, and workmanship.

Newlyweds Are Now At Home On Island

Mr. Rostorfer and Miss Theresa Hickman of Knoxville, Tenn., who last summer were assistants in the Franz Theodore Stone Biological Laboratory, Gibraltar Island, were married the early part of June and have taken up their residence for the summer in one of Professor Osburn's cottages on the west shore. A day or two after their arrival, Mrs. Rostorfer was stricken with an attack of appendicitis and was taken to Pool Hospital in Port Clinton, where an operation was performed. She is again at her home and is gradually recuperating from the operation.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grimm, recently married, are again at the Biological Laboratory for the summer. Mr. Grimm taught during the past winter in the Tennessee schools.

STENSEN ARRESTED!

Charles Stensen was arrested by Officer John Nissen Wednesday afternoon for passing through a stop street. He was arraigned before Mayor Myers and paid his fine and costs. Mayor Myers made public the statement that in the future all offenders regardless of whom they are, or where they are from will find that Put in Bay's motor laws will be rigidly enforced.

Really a Brave Man This Person Thought

A man from Sandusky was visiting the Perry Memorial Monument on Saturday and was inspecting the rotunda and reading the bronze tablets, which give names of Commodore Perry's battleships and the names of the warriors who served aboard each. He came to the Lawrence, and after reading the tablet thoroughly, remarked, "My what a brave man Lawrence must have been to have killed all of those men."

Camp Wa-Li-Ro Is Opened on Island

The second annual session of the Wa-Li-Ro Choir Masters' School, was opened on Monday, June 29.

Dr. Healy Willan, one of the foremost composers of English church music, and an outstanding figure in the world of music, came from Toronto, Canada, to teach.

Mr. Ray Brown a graduate of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music and of St. Nicholas College at Chateaufort, in England, and now head of the department of music in the General Seminary of New York City came to assist the regular faculty of the Summer Choir School.

Attending were members from South Carolina, Michigan, and from various cities in Ohio.

Wa-Li-Ro had eight week end guests, and expects many more over the Fourth.

A very few boys leave this week, and next week choirs from Hudson and Mansfield, Ohio, will arrive.

Always "At Home" In Conlen Cottage

The fine Conlen Cottage, where you are always bound to feel at home, and never fail to get a tasty home-cooked meal, is open again, under the able management of Mrs. Conlen and family.

Mrs. Conlen offers ten clean attractive rooms, especially prepared for the comfort of her guests. Each room also has the added convenience of running water.

The Conlen Cottage is the only private boarding house on the Island that has been in continuous operation since it was erected, 39 years ago. It has been personally supervised nearly all that time by its owners, the Conlens.

During this time, Mrs. Conlen reports she has entertained a great many of the "great" and "near great."

New Pipe Organ Is Installed in Church

The congregation of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Put in Bay, was very agreeably surprised on Sunday to find a pipe organ had been installed in the church for the summer.

The organ was installed for the use of the Camp Wa-Li-Ro Choir School, which will have charge of music and the services for a great part of the summer in the church.

The organ was manufactured by the Holtkamp Organ Co. of Cleveland, and its fine tones help greatly in rendering the choral parts of the service.

Mrs. Sue Snyder, with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nixon spent Tuesday in Fremont. Mrs. Snyder was having some adjustments made to her new Chevrolet.
